

My "To-Do" list for the Beginning Readers Bootcamp WEEK #4

Continue from last week:

1. Reading aloud for at least 10 minutes a day to your child according to your Parent's Daily Planner
2. Having your child read aloud for at least 10 minutes each day, and charting it on his/her Reading Rewards incentive chart (& giving the incentive when earned!)
3. Reading labels & signs, etc. together when you are out and about life.
4. Visit the library again.
5. Come over to the Facebook Group and tell us all about your Book Club plans!

New "To-Do's" this week:

1. After looking over your notes on your child's reading that you took last week, figure out where their reading "gaps" are, and find an app or two this week that targets that skill to strengthen it.
2. Find ways to connect with your child's teacher and school to improve his/her reading. Use the questions for teachers printable below for ideas on what to ask your teacher.
3. Learn about when to see a reading specialist and decide if you should have your child seen for assessment.
4. When you head to the library this week, take a moment to visit and enjoy the children's magazine section (or another area of the library you haven't explored!)
5. Complete the suggested reading from Bootcamp Week #4.
